- Note: Counterfeit copies of this LP exist. Counterfeits can be distinguished from the real thing by checking these characteristics:
- 1) Copies which have a purple background surrounding the Apple on the labels are fake (originals have a dark green background).
  - 2) Copies which have non-glossy labels are fake (or reissues).
  - 3) Copies with a hand-written MR logo in the dead wax are fakes (these should be machine-stamped).
  - 4) Copies with a cover which is larger than 12.25" x 12.5" are fakes.
  - 5) Copies with the brown outer bag which is greenish-gold rather than true brown are fakes. Most original copies have a 2" white round sticker to seal them.
  - 6) Copies with a label font that is different from the ones shown above are fakes or reissues.

ADAM VIII LTD. AVIII 8018 - ROOTS

Apple Records print on labels

Note: Counterfeit copies of this LP exist.

Counterfeits can be distinguished from the real thing by checking these characteristics:

- 1) Copies with the word GREATEST (instead of GREAT) printed on the spine are counterfeits.
- 2) Original covers are manufactured with white posterboard. If a copy has a paste on cover slick, it's a counterfeit (although some counterfeits have copied the white posterboard construction!).
- 3) On the cover, if you cannot see the pink flesh on John Lennon's shoulder (right), it's a counterfeit (Many counterfeits use a slightly enlarged copy of the front cover which cuts out the shoulder).
- 4) If the letters in the word STEREO (in the bottom right corner of the cover) run together, it's a counterfeit. All originals have the word STEREO printed in separate letters.
- 5) On the back cover, the printing on the little album covers in the advertisement are legible (This is not to say they are perfectly clear because the print is really small). Every counterfeit has the print absolutely unreadable.
- 6) If the disc is an unusually thick piece of vinyl, it's a counterfeit.
- 7) If the label on the record is unusually large compared to a standard 1970's pressing, it's a counterfeit.

8) If the trail off area of the record does not have a machine stamp BELL SOUND, it's a counterfeit (although some counterfeits do have BELL SOUND stamped in the dead wax!).
 9) All original copies have the matrix number of A 8018 pressed into Side 1 Label. No counterfeits have this feature.

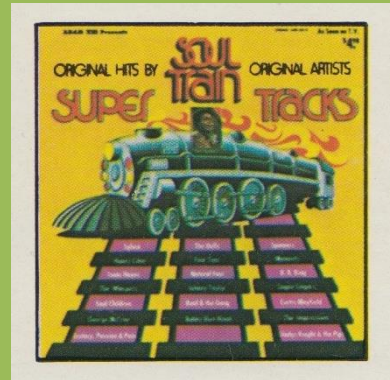

1) Counterfeit cover spine (detail)

3 + 4) Counterfeit cover front (detail)

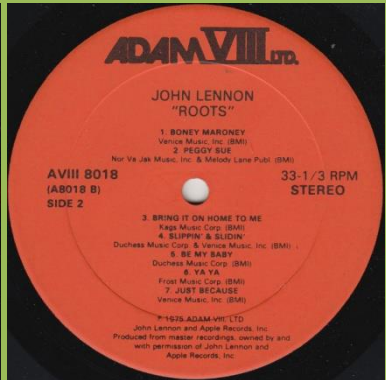

5) Counterfeit cover rear (detail)
